THINK POSITIVELY!

If you think you are beaten, you are.
If you think that you dare not, you don't
If you'd like to win, but you think you can't
It's almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost.
For out in the world you'll find success begins with a fellow's will.
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are.
You've go to think high to rise.
You've got to be sure of yourself before you can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go to the stronger or faster man.
But sooner or later, the man who wins,
is the man who thinks he can.

For every sunrise,
there's a dream . . .

WACHUSSETT REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL
HOLDEN, MASSACHUSETTS

WACHUSSETT REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL
1985

Traditionally, graduating classes have dedicated their yearbooks to one individual. However, we, the class of 1985, feel that our gratitude cannot be directed to one person alone. Five outstanding and unique individuals have encouraged and assisted us through these past four years. With our deepest appreciation, we dedicate this yearbook to you . . .

Ms. Mrzyglod . . .

You have played an instrumental part in the development of our class. Your firm leadership abilities have directed us into becoming the class that we are. Never have we seen an advisor so committed to her work as you have demonstrated the past four years. We appreciate the fact that you helped us push for achieving excellence at Wachusett.

Mr. Tremblay,

We will always appreciate your demonstration of kindness towards us these four years. Your way of combining advice with firmness has given us a foundation upon which to grow. You have given much of your time to us and the class of 1985 wishes to acknowledge the devotion that you put into the development of our class. You've been a great friend.

Mr. Yonker,

You have helped us over the years to enjoy ourselves and other people in so many ways. Rarely have we seen you in a depressed mood. As a result of this consistent level of positiveness, we have accomplished our goals in a serious but relaxed manner. You have displayed your kindness in gentle and reassuring ways and we most certainly recognize your commitment to our class.

Mrs. Rowell,

Your encouragement and unfailing willingness to help us on the spot have had an incredible impact on this class. Very rarely did we come to you thinking that our problems wouldn't be solved. Our desire to go for the best, however hard it might be, was a direct reflection of you.

Mr. Weis,

Your quick wit and humor kept us on our toes and we will always remember the hours you put into making our class the class to remember. Your persistence and desire for doing things correctly have helped us to become more aware of the value of completing things until they are the best they can be.

We would also like to show our appreciation to you, our parents, guardians, and friends, by including you in our yearbook. We hope that it may, in no small measure, express our gratitude to you for the opportunity afforded us to enjoy the activities, interests, and special times herein portrayed. We fully realize that it was your love and support that made it all possible.

Together we look to see the past —

things we've said and done.

Together we wait

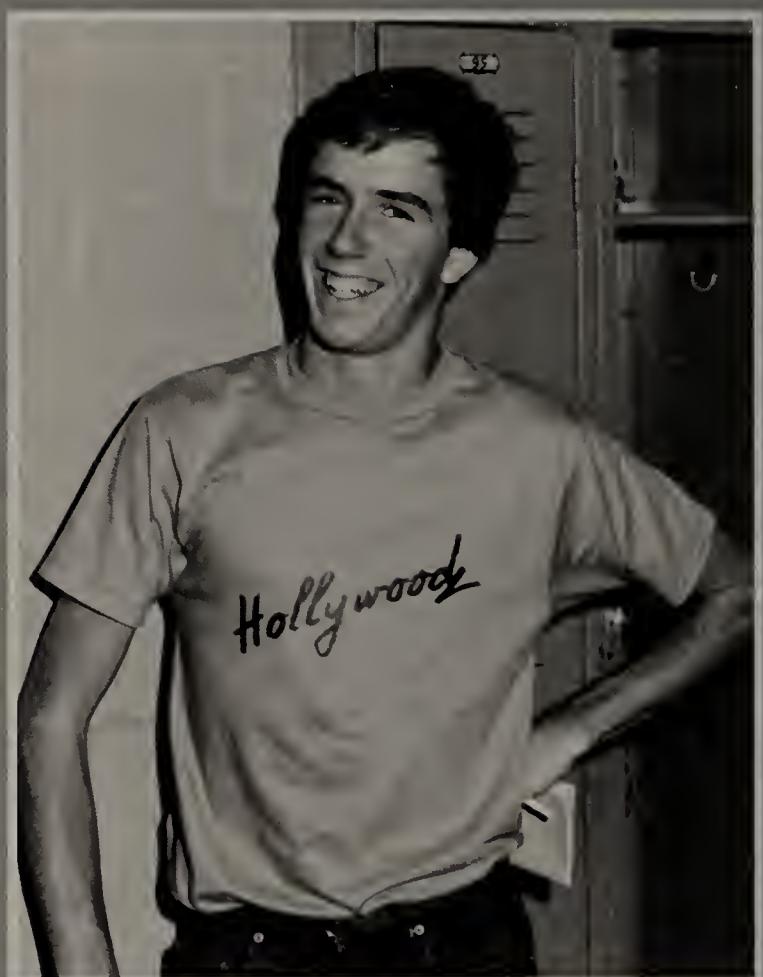

to see the future —

things we have to come.

Our high school years

have gone too fast,

but they haven't
gone to waste.

Our memories of yesterday will
last a lifetime,

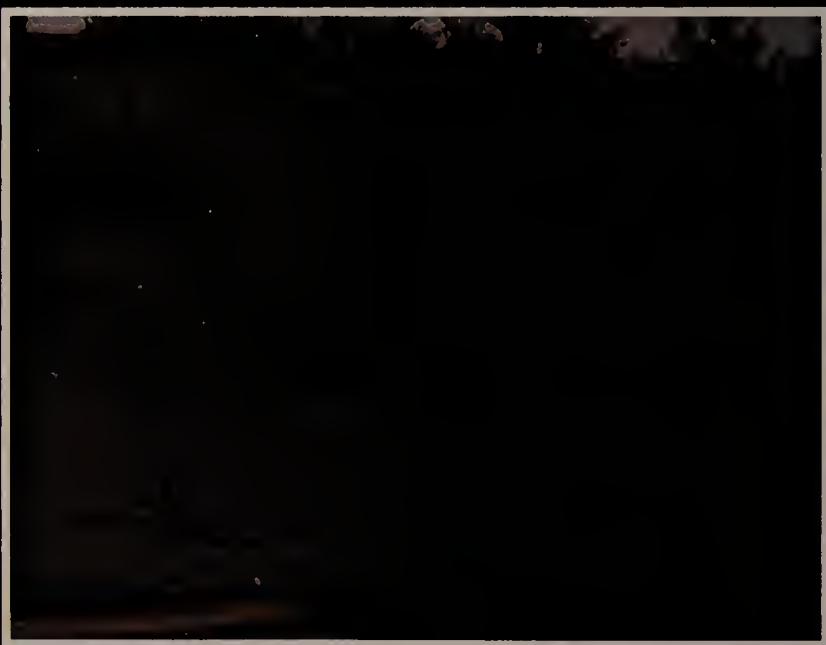

we'll take the best,
forget the rest,

and someday we'll remember . . .

we've had the best of times.

Message to the Class of 1985:

This message is being written following several days spent with Amish friends in Ohio, including a morning's visit in an Amish one-room school and three days observing a family (three generations worth) prepare for a wedding. The most impressive aspect of the Amish for me was the strong sense of community, the standards set by it, the support given by it, especially in times of need, and the obligation which each family accepts for training each young person in a vocational area and setting him or her up in an occupation or household. What message is there in all of this for us?

I think that there is a message which runs counter to the commonly heard "I want to make it on my own." Possibly this "making it on one's own" is a reaction to overprotective or manipulative parents. Sometimes it is necessary, when there is no support coming from family or friends. But how silly it is to confuse the desire to achieve self-sufficiency with knowing it all, to refuse advice and assistance when offered by someone who knows our chosen occupation better than we. The message is: accept advice and assistance with your career and life, and even ask for it. Thousands of successful careers have been moved forward by the person's having a mentor, a more experienced person in the field, who takes an interest in a hard-working junior, and acts not only as teacher, but as agent to further the junior's advancement.

Yes it is admirable to go it alone, but it is not necessary in many cases. May I suggest that you consider abandoning some of those macho instincts and looking around for a person of quality and accomplishment so you don't have to "reinvent the wheel."

Whatever your route, our best wishes follow you along your life's path.

Dear Members of the Class of 1985:

I am writing this letter for the first publication deadline of your yearbook which is only one quarter of the way through your senior year at Wachusett. This act reminds me of how transient and ordered most of life really is. And this would seem to be a good thing given the less frequent but tumultuous events that can occur in the life of an individual or of a country or even of the world. The common experience of high school — even with all the differences of performance and accomplishments — is very important to all of us. I wouldn't trade in the memories of my high school years — like yours spent at Wachusett — for anything! Even more than twenty-five years out my memory is often flooded with recollections of friendships and of teachers; of good times with my family and the traumas and tribulations of my adolescence. It was a special time for me and I hope it was a special time for you.

As you read this your graduation ceremonies will be close at hand and the future will stretch out for you and your classmates in many directions. It is my hope that Wachusett has had some part in preparing you for what lies ahead and that you will remember those — your family, friends, and teachers — who have had a positive impact on your life.

I think of Wachusett as a family and I wish for each of you to keep us somewhere in your memory as you pursue whatever goals or ambitions that burn in your hearts. We hope to establish a formal Alumni Association in the near future and I hope you will join. My fervent prayer for each of you is that you will pursue your dreams and no matter what life has to offer you that you will face it with truth, honesty, and love.

Last Will and Testament
Class of 1985

We, the esteemed members of the class of 1985, of Wachusett Regional High School, in the town of Holden, Massachusetts, realizing that our existence in the said school is nearing its close, do hereby declare this our last will and testament:

First, to all Freshmen —

A kindly warning: don't wish your time away; the four years pass too quickly.

Second, to all Sophomores —

The privilege of leaving the realm of "The Dungeon" and becoming a "Real" member of the Wachusett student body.

Third, to all Juniors —

The right to step out to your own prom, the thrill of becoming dignified (?) upperclassmen, and the privilege of sitting behind the wheel — LEGALLY.

Fourth, to the faculty —

Our kindest appreciation for the help you have given us while we sojourned at Wachusett.

Fifth, to Mr. Ljungberg —

Our gratitude for the inspiration you were to us and may you have all the happiness in the world for the future.

Sixth, to Mr. Lane —

We give you our highest esteem and gratitude for all your forbearance and kindness.

Seventh — We do hereby bequeath our possessions and peculiarities in item as follows:

I, Lori Aguiar, leave to the students of Wachusett all of my fruitloops, safety pins, and creative jewelry.

I, Diana Alty, leave my John his own locker in the Senior corridor, and Mr. Corriveau the "Civil War!"

I, Margaret Barrett, leave my crutches to Miss Hawkins, French Horn to Mr. Grimo, polyester uniform to Mrs. Reidy, and love to someone left nameless.

I, Crisse Bishop, had something to leave, but I forgot what it was.

We, Diana Bratt and Kate Conway, leave "Wee-um-bum-baway" destined to become the Wachusett Alma Mater.

I, Jean Brett, leave my bass to Mr. Grimo, who will hopefully find someone else to lug it around, tune it, and not be heard in Band.

I, Darlene Charland, being of semi-sound mind leave: to M. Powers — quelques mots français, to the school — my fond memories, and to all Freshmen — a 20-pack of Chicken McNuggets.

I, Sandy Czajkowski, leave early to avoid being trampled by the crowd. See you all at the reunion! Later Ferg! It's been real guys!

I, Susan Czajkowski, leave looking less and less like my twin sister every day, but some things never change.

I, Jennifer L. D'Amico, leave my strawberry socks to Kristine Cheetham, and my dreams to Wendy Battles.

I, Tabitha D'Auteuil, leave to become Mrs. Richard Merchant Jr.

I, Jeanne Ferguson, leave all my good memories and friends my love. I also leave the rest of the class luck and good fortune for the future.

I, Lisa Fournier, graciously leave all of my "funny-looking" clothes (the pants with the vertical stripes) to my one and only idol, Dave T. (Fatty)

I, Linda C. Gonyea, leave to Mr. Lengas an extra scoop of ice cream that his mother deprived him of.

I, Chris Grace, leave New York I'll be there.

I, Ernest Gronblom, leave my programming talents to John Roberts and Pat Mullaney, and all my programs to Mr. Hedlund.

I, Joel Helle, leave mailboxes, pumpkins, and signs to Rutland Residents.

I, Christina Hopkins, leave Wachusett Cafeteria with Becka Price, Tracey Ovian and Deb Strang during our lunch periods for some real food!!

I, John Ivanisin, would only like to leave my friendship to those who need a friend. Call me. Someone will always know where I am.

I, Chris Klose, leave my Senioritis to all the Juniors, my miniskirts to Mr. Hedlund, and the remains of my sanity to my brother.

I, Myron Kokocinski, leave behind only what I found.

I, Amy Lindgren, leave my huk-a-poo party shirt to P.Q. so she too can look like Magnum.

I, Chris Lord, leave my music to anyone who cares enough about the past to prevent the artistic endeavors of the sixties from sinking into obscurity.

The mafia leaves Mr. T (Dave) a supply of food to eat in class — and spit on. Don't ever forget your lumberjack song.

I, Christopher Magay, leave Wachusett with many memories.

I, John Monks, leave one virtual powder keg filled with disgruntled farmers to Mr. T.

I, Stephen Mooradian, leave my Student Council parabola voice to the Exec. Board for use during any minor crisis.

I, Linda Morse, leave all my good times to my underclassmate friends, and a special thank you to Garry . . . ILY always.

I, Lynn Narcisi, leave some bubble schoap to Kim Narcisi and Kristen Helle.

I, Laurie O'Hearn, leave my "wiggle" to Beth Zeena and Katie Komenda. Maybe they can find dates for the weekend.

I, Chris Olson, leave a rose to Mr. Ljungberg.

I, Wendy Pierce, leave my flirting ability to anyone who wants it.

I, Kathy Qunlivan, leave Leah Hatstat a Carmello Bar.

I, Gil Scott, leave my squirtgun in seventh period chemistry and memories of Lou.

I, Steve Scott, leave Mr. Corriveau Captain Joe Hooker's girls and my cake.

I, Lisa Simpson, leave the Graphic Arts room to next year's senior Graphic Art students, and my sneakers to anyone who will wear them.

I, Sue Stotz, leave NB and CB to AB and wish her all the luck in the world!

I, Sandy Vinton, leave my stomach pains to Mr. Jaquith.

I, Ellen Warden, leave the number 42 to an insecure Freshman who wants to know the answers to life, the universe and everything.

I, Dawn Westerback, leave the class of '85 with wishes for the best of everything.

Nif, Ban, and Eevon leave the mafia limo to Pook, Tirashma, and Boop for safe keeping. Keep in touch with Nermal — Love peace moo and goodbye.

I, Holly Whitaker, leave Tom Powers a dozen white roses, dinner in Montreal and the winter lights in Paris.

I, Robin Wood, leave W.R.H.S. as of January 1985 to pursue love, peace and happiness.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

DITTE CLASE

A lot of people ask me why I wanted to come to America to be an exchange student. Well, in the beginning I wasn't sure why. Of course I wanted to improve my English and learn more about American life. But after spending over half a year here, I realize how much more it has meant to me. Being an exchange student makes you more independent. It was hard in the beginning. I felt all alone. I didn't have my mother and father or brother to talk to. The first couple of months were terrible, and I must have cried more than I've done in my whole life. But once I got to know people and the feeling of being at home here, it has been terrific. And I just don't want to think about the day I'm going home. But it has been the best thing I've ever done and I encourage everyone who's thinking about going to a foreign country to do it.

Being an American for one year has been wonderful.

MARTA DELORENZO

I'm Marta from Madrid (Spain). I came here on August 18. I spent three days in New Jersey and New York, everything was great, but I was despondent when I saw New York. I thought it was much better than it actually is.

This country is very different than my homeland: people, schools, kind of life, etc. I found this country more strict than Spain is. People can't drink alcohol, go to a bar or a disco if they are not 21 or older. The hours to be home at night are very strict. In the school you need a pass for everything and you have to call the teachers by their last names. In Spain, after school we bring our books home and then we go with our friends to the nearest bar or another place, but we don't return home until ten o'clock or ten thirty because we have supper at that time. We don't have homework, it is against the law. That is a new law, which began this year (I miss it).

At the beginning I had trouble adjusting myself here and now I think I'll have trouble adjusting myself to Spanish life, but only for the first two days.

I think America is a wonderful country, but I can't compare it to Spain. There're two very different countries.

PETER GILLBRANT

There are a lot of differences between Sweden and America. One is that football is such a big sport in America and in Sweden it is non existent. We have something similar called rugby, but not many people play it.

My first real live football game is one experience I will never forget.

The cheerleaders, dressed in short skirts with "what you call them" in their hands, are sometimes more fun to watch than the game.

Suddenly there comes a roar from the crowd and in run the players. I guess football must be one sport you need a lot of players for because I have never seen so many players on one team before. They kind of look like ice hockey players with all their protection they are wearing. I found out the reason why after the game started.

What happens after the kickoff is very strange to many Europeans because as football is to America, soccer is to Europe. In soccer the players try to spread out the play, but in football there are only a few players that run free. The rest of the players are in a big pile in the middle of the field. The football works almost like a magnet, everybody is drawn to it.

I thought it was a fun sport to watch and I guess a lot of Americans think the same because you have to pay over one million dollars for one minute of commercial during the Super Bowl.

MARIE HARRYSSON

My trip over here was really a journey of experience. The group I was going with left Sweden August 13 after we had spent three days in Stockholm to learn a little about America. We landed in London after about a two hour flight. There a bus took us to another airport from which we later left for New York. There we had to go through the customs with our suitcases (we were only allowed to bring two each, for a whole year). That was something that we all had been nervous of because the leaders had told us about the custom agents — how they treat your suitcases, but we all came through it without having to open our suitcases. One of my suitcases got lost on the way to London so I had only one to carry around during the long wait for the plane to New York. Arrived in the United States. Everyone was tired and the heat didn't make it better. My suitcase didn't show up here either, so we had to leave without it to catch the next plane, this time to Boston. There were only three of us who were going there and we had to take a taxi to another airport. But the cabdriver only allowed three in the car, so the two girls and the leader took one and disappeared. A guy, who was going to Chicago, and I took another. None of us knew which airport we should go to, but we finally found it after a lot of driving. The leader had to get the "Chicago guy" to his airport so he left us there alone to find our way to the right plane. After a lot of trouble and delays, the plane finally went down for landing in Boston. I was kind of terrified but I found out on the airplane that I had no reason to because a great family was waiting for me down there and I had the enormous luck to be part of them for a whole wonderful year.

KARL HOVLAND

TV, highways, skyscrapers, yellow school buses, big cities . . . these are some of the differences between Norway and the US, but the biggest difference is the language. Not that there's anything wrong with English, but I just happened to grow up in a place where we speak another language so I have difficulty pronouncing some English sounds.

Even though many things are different, many things are alike. The people are the same and many of the same needs. We listen to the same kind of music and watch similar and often the same movies and tv series. In many ways Americans are very conservative as in clothing, parental influence, swimming suits, and values in general. I once spoke to a girl from China, I felt like I came from next door the US because over there it's really different. We hardly have anything in common with the Chinese.

Depending upon what you are comparing, America is very different or very alike Norway.

"Lives of the SUPERIOR AND FAMOUS" magazine would like to present this year's very exclusive group of students: THE SENIORS!!

YES, Ladies and Gentlemen, our cunning photographers have managed to capture a few members of this elite group in action (and some not so active).

It's true that thousands would die, many even kill, just to catch a glimpse of or stand in the presence of a Wachusett Senior. This reporter has brought them to you in the stark reality of black and white.

The next four pages present to you the last priceless photos to be published before the esteemed class of 1985 moves on to bigger and better things!!!

MORNINGS are a time for sleep in this reporters opinion . . .

... but there are those few who greet each morning with the excitement of the new day.

In the AFTERNOONS many chow . . .

... The unfortunate ones are off to work to make the big bucks!

When the EVENING comes so comes the relaxation. Here, our Seniors show that not only can they 'Hit those Books' but they also know how to kick up their heels and have a good time.

So there you have it. These pictures are yours forever.

A Gift Freely Given

As the morning sun begins to burn through the dense fog,
A calm, gentle breeze begins to blow in off the water.
I glance up and down the beach, noticing the other strangers, who have come to cherish these few moments of timeless peace.
Some walk along the water, hoping to find a shell or some other remnant of the sea.
Others sit as I do,
enjoying the serenity of the waves as they submerge the rocks
and creep up the beach.
We are all alone,
for those that enjoy the beauty of the sea, or
the brilliance of a clear, starry sky, are surprisingly few.
We are thankful for this gift of nature,
for it reminds us that other things are not so freely given,
as those which God has given for us to share.

*Shadows of late afternoon
Sneak across your window pane
While you fearfully wait to be swallowed in darkness
But when they arrive,
Casting ominous twisted shapes
On the floor,
Get up, calmly,
And turn on the light
And they will be gone.
Leaving you the Victor.*

4 Years of Dedication

With an explosive mount she conquers the beam,
Instantly muscles stretch to full extent
And toes clamp on.

Her body flexes and bends as if it is clay.
Her arms exaggerate now sharp, now graceful.
She leaps and lands,
Tips back and forth like a boat in stormy waves.
Her feet grasp like suction cups and strain to find hold.

In concentration
She hears no sound
Her lips press tight like hands in prayer.
Her head is erect,
But her eyes stare down.

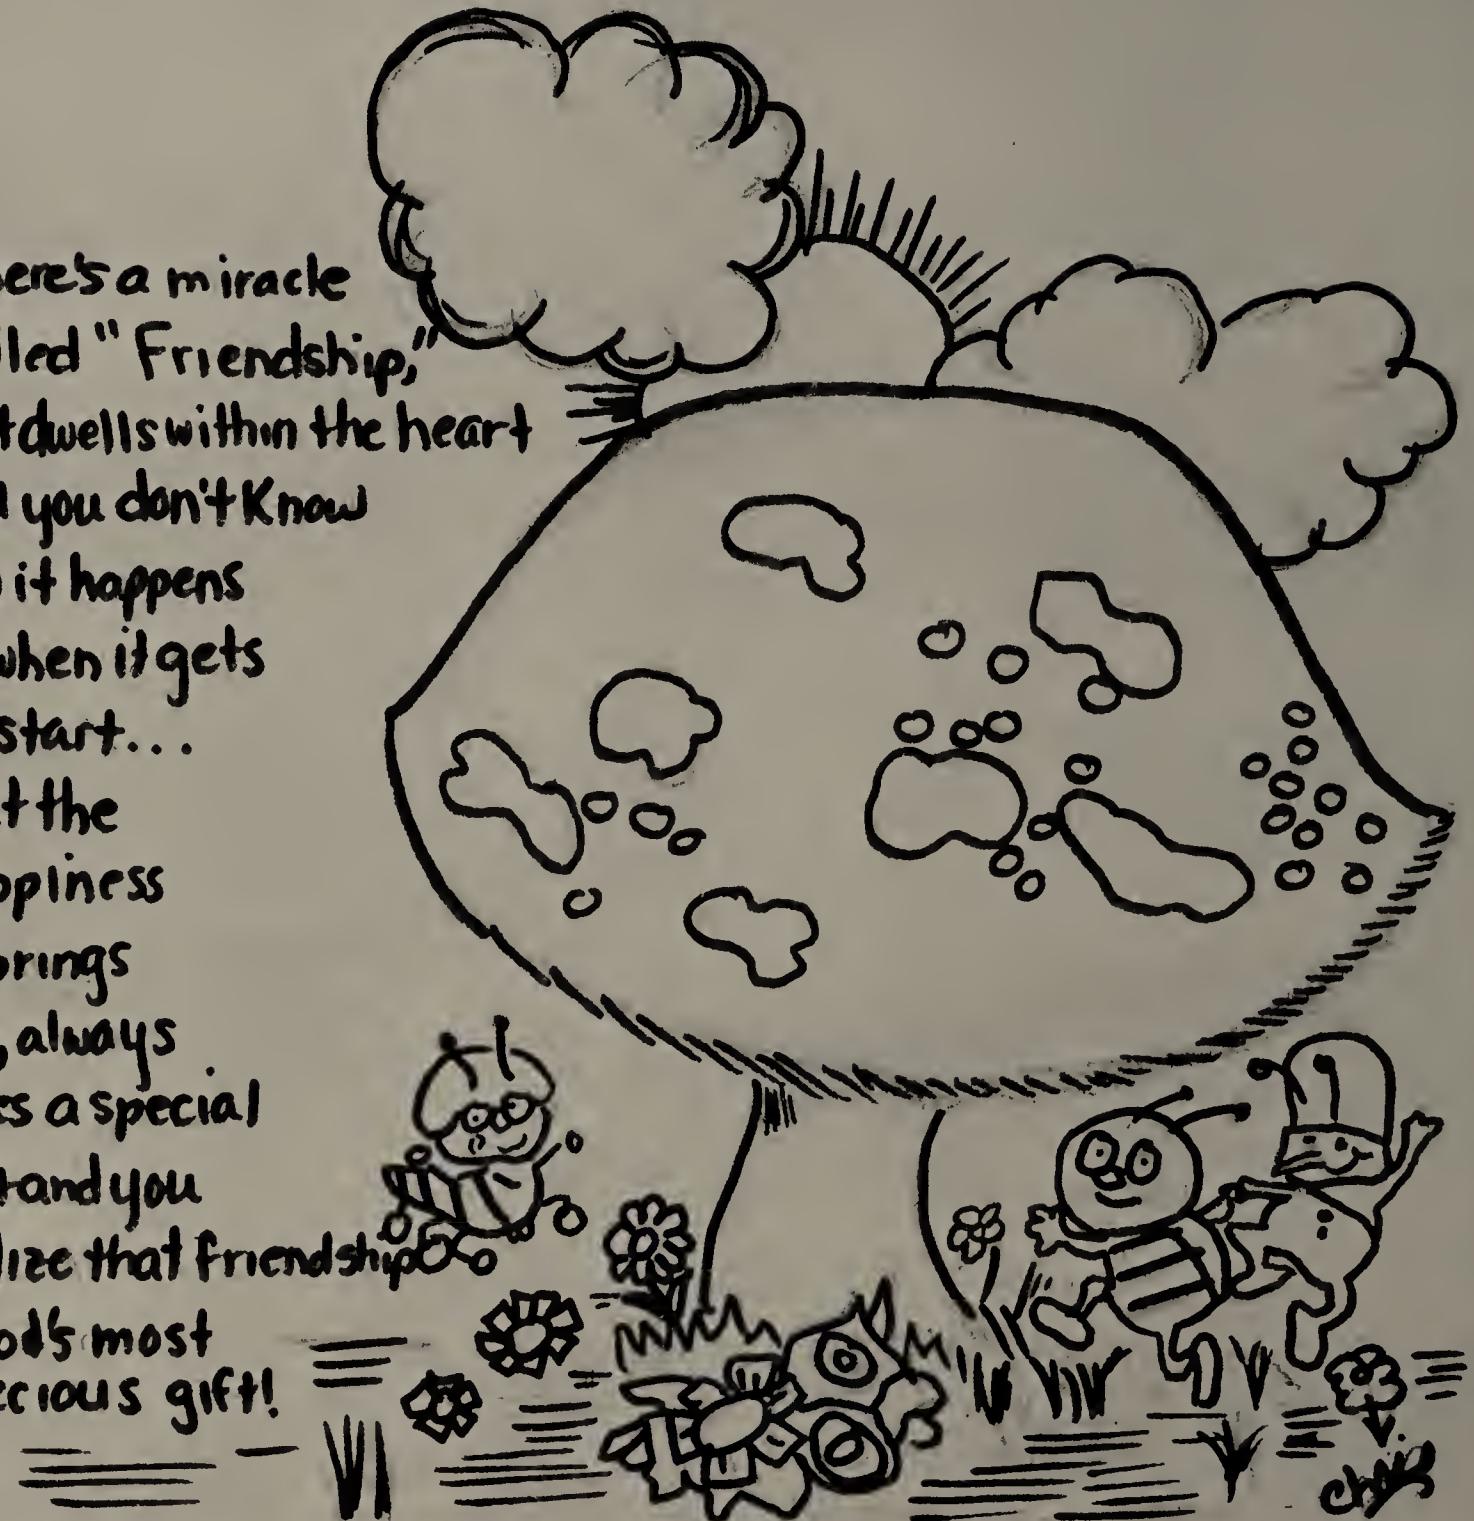

A gymnast
Toughened like weathered wood ignores the hurt
But the pain is visible in her eyes.

The Miracle of Friendship

There's a miracle
Called "Friendship," that dwells within the heart and you don't know
how it happens
or when it gets
its start...
But the happiness
it brings you, always gives a special gift and you
realize that friendship is God's most precious gift!

*When we met,
On that rainy day,
You were you
And I was me.

Locked in my world
I could only see the rain.
But your smile was my sunshine,
Your laughter my key,
On the day that you became a part of me.*

*We splashed through the puddles,
Always finding the rainbows,
While finding ourselves mixing together.
They were days of laughter,
Days of smiles,
We didn't think would end.*

*One sunny day
You said you had to go.
I was angry, confused, and . . .
scared.
But I was still me
And I still had the you in me.*

The Wachusett varsity field hockey team ended their regular season the way they began it by playing to a scoreless tie against Notre Dame Academy. The tie against Notre Dame put the finishing touches on an undefeated season.

The '84 season was to be one of rebuilding and the team found themselves confronted with living up to the image of last year's fantastic field hockey team. But they put in tremendous effort, consistently matching the previous year's status and rising a step beyond to the District Championship.

"This year was a rebuilding one. The kids were great! They believed in themselves as individual players and as a team. For a young team, they accomplished so much — C.M.C. League and district champs. The overall season record was 16-1-2. High scorers were Marie Lane, Paige Erickson, and Kari Bodnarchuk with 12 goals each."

A Season for Champions . . .

The Mountaineer varsity soccer team played a tremendous season straight from their opening game against Leominster. The undefeated team swept its record to an impressive 17-0, marking them as the ultimate team to beat in Central Massachusetts. They were on their way to the District Soccer Finals where they won their second District E Division I soccer title in four years with a 4-3 victory over Milford High. Then on November 21, Wachusett Regional topped off the brilliant season, beating Acton-Boxboro Regional, 1-0, for the State Division I soccer title before 2,300 screaming fans at the Morgan Bowl. Tremendous team effort was displayed as captains Tim Youd, Bobby Wood and Steve Bishop led the Mountaineers through the final highpoint of their remarkable and spirited season.

"Dreaming about winning is always in the back of your mind, but when you taste it, it just seems that much sweeter. Coach Gardula deserves a lot of the credit, and I am honored just to be able to say that I played with the State champions."

The Wachusett Junior Varsity soccer team, led by tri-captains Mark Hehir, Todd Masterman, and Doug Puffer triumphantly ended the 1984 season undefeated. The highlights of the season, as recalled by Coach Skip Knight, were shutting out St. John's twice and Leominster three times. The Mountaineers scored a total of 62 goals, allowing only three.

The leading goal scorers were Steve Rock with 11 goals; Peter Gardula, 10; Dean Leanna, 9; and Floyd Beckwith, 8. The defense was keyed by Danny O'Brien, John Lufkin, Scott Lindgren and Jeff Londgren. Matt Setterlund and Mike Spanknebel were the team's goalkeepers who contributed outstanding effort in the season.

Premature Celebration

The Fall '84 season for the Mountaineer football team looked optimistic to all before it began. With well prepared and talented seniors Bill Power, Brian Lederer, Tony Mongiat, and Doug Blackbourne, Coach Lewis looked forward to a strong balanced attack combining passing and running. Juniors Tom Fatcheric and Mike Shipley would help add to the stable seniors to take some of the pressure off.

Area newspapers even tagged the Mountaineers as the "spoilers" of the season who would "trample over all others." Yet the tables turned to everyone's surprise and the Mountaineers lost or tied every game with the exception of one. However, that one game opened everyone's eyes to how good the Mountaineers really were when they upset unbeaten Burncoat, 18-14. The Mountaineers ended their season 1-8-1 yet the experience each individual player gained in his tremendous effort will provide an even stronger base to begin on in seasons to come.

A respectable season! That was the primary goal of this year's boys' Frosh basketball team; and, as one might expect of young players just beginning their high school careers, the drive to attain respectability does not always run smoothly.

After splitting the first 4 games in unspectacular fashion, the prospect of defeating perennial powerhouse St. John's seemed bleak. However, a starting five of Paul Rauker, Jeff Norcross, Dave Cornacchioli, Bobby Dunham, and Tim Walsh took quick control of the game and built a lead which reached over 20 points before finally settling for a highly satisfying 46 to 30 victory. In addition to the starters, Bob Gramling and Chris Carey played well for WRHS.

Though the team again split the next 4 games, the highlight proved to be a tough 2 point loss at Leominster. The spirited play of reserves John Lufkin, Wayne Chadbourn, Jeff Hazelwood, Ben Paharik, Jon Raynor, and Rick Cranford mounted a furious rally that nearly wiped out a 15 point third quarter deficit!

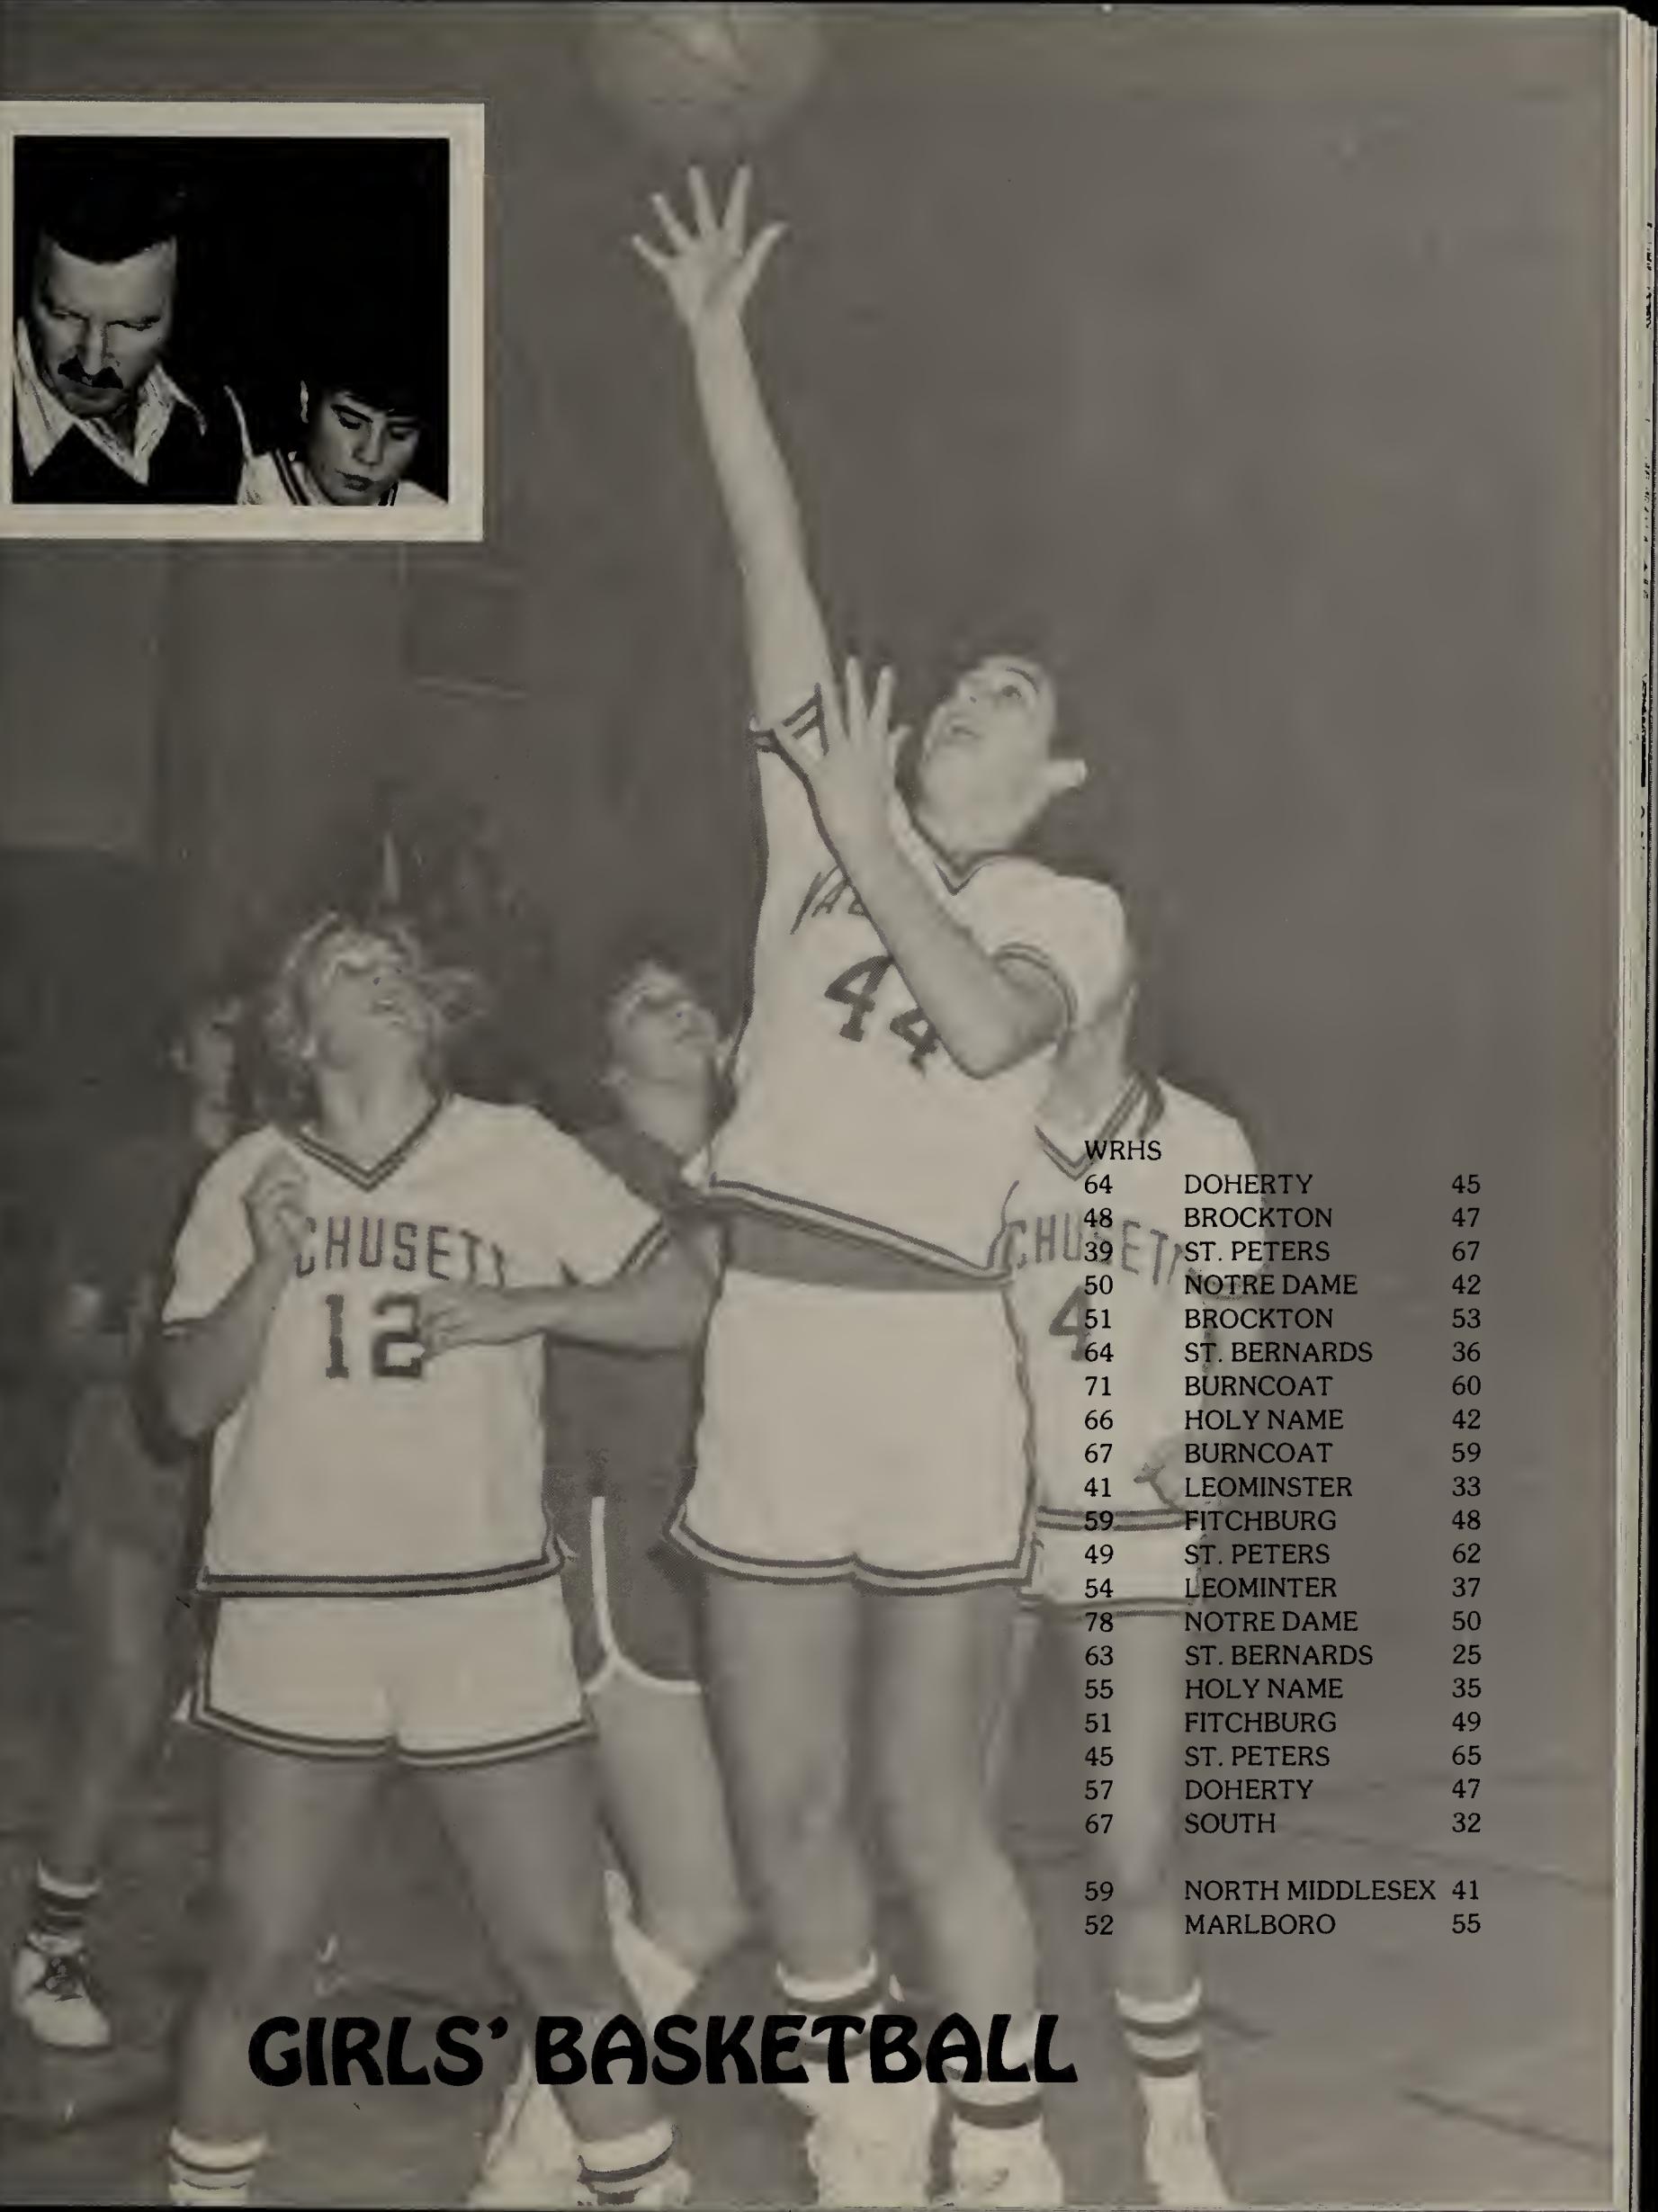

Following a 34 point blow out of St. Peter-Marian came a rematch with St. John's. Again the yearling Mountaineers showed their superiority in easily defeating the Pioneers 55 to 31. All 15 team members had a hand in producing a second successive win over their usually potent rivals.

For the remainder of the season the team went on a rollercoaster ride which produced 4 wins and 4 losses. In the season finale the entire squad saw plenty of action in drubbing Tantasqua 58 to 34.

Eighteen hard-fought games had produced a respectable record of 9 wins and 9 losses. The goal had been reached!

What first looked to be a questionable season, due to several injured team competitors, turned out to be one of triumph. The Varsity Girls' Gymnastics team was forced to begin their season with the absence of two strong teammates, Nikki Cook and Laurie O'Hearn. Many of the team members were doubtful of a season that would be able to boast such a record as the previous years held. However, Coach Claire Madelle strongly felt that the potential in the remaining team members could make up a large part of the difference. Working through strenuous practices, the team concentrated on more difficult moves and cleaner routines. The first meet, however, was a disappointing loss by 1.1 to a strong Algonquin High. As the season progressed the girls improved and again had to suffer the loss of two more strong competitors Diana Bratt and Catherine English. The team worked even harder and the remaining meets brought nine wins and only one loss. The girls found themselves on their way, to everyone's surprise, to the North Sectional Finals. Rochelle Perry, Erin O'Connor, and Deb Osborne were the high scorers throughout the season with outstanding performances. Other strong competitors were: Crisse Bishop, Kate Conway, Lisa Juliano, Katie Sedgwick, Jodi O'Rourke, Lisa Taylor, Cathy Miller, Emily Hair, and Sandy Cjaikowsky. Even with so much against them, the Varsity Girls' Gymnastics team proved that the strength was still there and that they wouldn't be defeated.

In addition to their proud record, the girls are responsible for several new school records. Freshman Shelby Mackie broke the standing time with a 7.4 second 50 yard hurdle time. Sophomore Nicole Parent's time of 3:04.0 in the 1000 yard run was good enough to bump out the previous record. Finally, Lynn Narcisi's outstanding time of 5:45.4 in the mile run also set a new record. Overall the team ended their season triumphantly as the second team in the Conference Meet with 52 points.

"Go ahead, make our day"

"Well, don't look at me I don't know."

The American Dental Association's poster children - 1985.

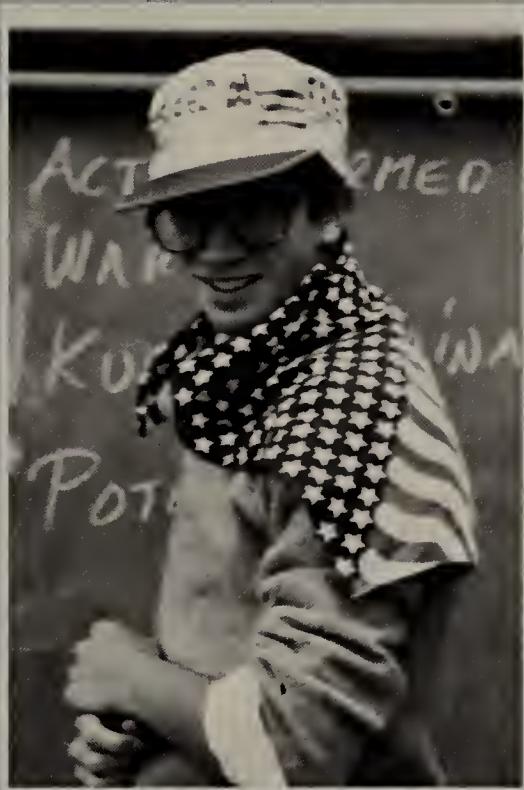

"And here's the weekend forecast . . ."

"I don't care how pretty she is — I have to finish this."

"I can't resist a man who chews his pen."

"Can you say Capitalism?"

"Uh-huh — not bad at all . . ."

"Don't you like my hat Steven?"

"Times like these were made for Taster's Choice."

"This is serious business!"

"OK — who shot the spit ball?"

"God Bless You!"

"Are we having fun yet?"

"Don't forget your vitamins."

"I think she likes me."

"You look MAAhvelous!"

"No, it's not a candy necklace."

"Too much hairspray again. Got any scissors?"

"Ever feel like people just walk all over you?"

"Wouldn't it be easier if I used my legs?!"

... 3, 2, 1 — Take off

"Not now — I'm in conference."

"You're coming with me, baby!"

Look at those buns!!!

"Watch out John Travolta!"

"I can't believe they just did that . . ."

"OK — so it's not flame broiled!"

"Could you show me where the bathroom is quick!"

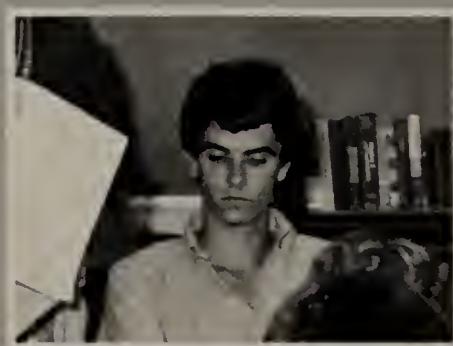

"It's a prize winner, for sure."

"Anyone want a brew?"

"Guess you had to be there!"

"What a drag!"

"If my friends could see me now."

"Just trust me!"

"Let's boogie."

Just one picture Miss Bratt, please.

"So you say you want to buy a new car, eh? . . ."

"Don't you dare."

"Come on, trust me."

Whatcha got there Laurie?

Aw come on — smile for the camera.

"Cheeeze"

"Get a load of that one . . ."

Great mind at work.

Don't pull that sleep trick on us.

"I don't need this."

"Umm . . . Umm . . ."

"Hey, I mean what can we say?"

Who knows what lurks in Wachusett grass.

Would you actually do these things?

"NOW where's my date?"

AVALANCHE!!!

"Hey Girls . . ."

Smile Pretty

"Listen Kim . . ."

"Well, you see it was only this big."

Dental Floss users

"THIS GUY'S REALLY GONE."

"LOVE THOSE SHADES, TRACY."

"THIS IS MY LOCKER — HONEST!"

"WHO LET THE MUNCHKINS IN?"

"YEAH — WHAT ABOUT IT?"

"AND IF YOU BUY THAT, I'VE GOT SOME NICE SWAMPLAND TO SELL YA."

"COME BACK — STEVE!"

"OK — WHO WANTS TO DO A LAB TODAY?"

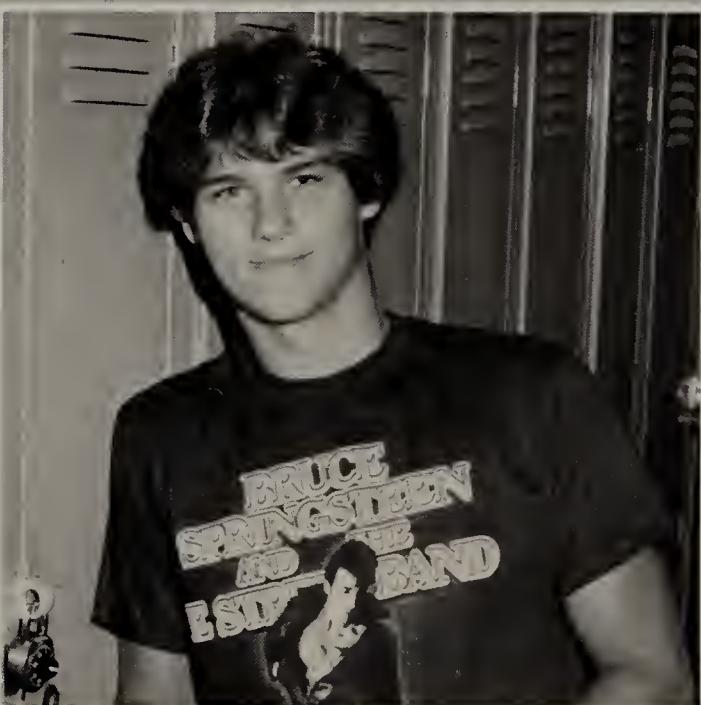

"HERE COMES BERNEY — ACT INNOCENT!"

"ISN'T IT OVER YET?"

"I GIVE UP!"

"YOU SAW BRUCE??"

CUTEST COUPLE?

"Huh?!"

"Gone"

Dreams of the past,
gone with a love that moved too fast.
gone,
bright shiny days
gone in a young and restless haze.
why did we leave, then run away?
so little time so much left to say,
and now it's gone.
young and restless friend,
you'll never pass this way again.
so drink the summer wine,
reach for the stars while you have time,
your restless dreams will lead the way.
so dream your dreams and live for each day,
while you are young.
